Missy Wryn Launches Training the Whole Horse® Certified Mastery Program

Many horse owners and professionals are seeking deeper communication and understanding with horses, but are experiencing conflict between control and relationship. With Missy's Training the Whole Horse® DO NO HARM methods and techniques horse owners and professionals experience congruence between their desire for a relationship with their horse and safer control without the use of pain inducing control devices.

To answer the continued requests for apprenticeship and certifications Missy is launching the Training the Whole Horse® Certified Mastery program starting January 2010. There are three mastery programs consisting of two levels each available throughout the year supporting the need for flexibility and time to master each level. For more information about Training the Whole Horse® Certified Mastery program visit www.MissyWryn.com or call 503-630-3744.
