Missy's WHolistic Horsemanship Training the Whole Horse[®] is a training program that works with the WHOLE horse. Her WHolistic Horsemanship techniques invoke a horse's natural instincts for clearer communication between human and horse and safer control all without the use of fear, pain or exhaustion.

"My specialty is problem and dangerous horses", Missy says. "Frequently, the source of behavior and training problems is pain or health issues that require treatment implementing appropriate veterinary care, equine dentistry, chiropractic, nutrition analysis, barefoot rehab etc. By applying WHolistic Horsemanship methods and techniques I address the source of behavior and training problems while redirecting the behavior for positive lasting change and greater communication between me and the horse. WHolistic Horsemanship methods and techniques are simple and easy to apply making quick effort for a safer relationship between horse and human. When dealing with a new or long term behavior problem consider that Problems are not always training issues".
